The International Electrotechnical Commission is an organization which was formed as a result of the Resolution* of the Chamber of Government Delegates at the International Electrical Congress of St Louis (USA), in September 1904.

The first Statutes, drawn up at the Preliminary Meeting held in London in 1906, were adopted in 1908. Revised Statutes and Rules of Procedure were first adopted in 1949 and thereafter. The present Statutes and Rules of Procedure replace all former versions and take effect on 1st January 2022.

TITLE AND LEGAL PROVISIONS (Article 1)

The name of the organization is the International Electrotechnical Commission, hereinafter referred to as "the Commission".

The abbreviated title is "IEC".

The Commission is constituted as a not-for-profit and non-governmental association with legal entity in accordance with Articles 60 et seq. of the Swiss Civil Code.

Questions which are not provided for in the present Statutes shall be subject to the laws of the country in which the Commission has its seat.

OBJECT (Article 2)

The object of the Commission is to promote international co-operation on all matters of standardization and conformity assessment (CA) to standards in the fields of electricity, electronics, information technologies and related technologies, and thus to promote international understanding. This object, inter alia, is achieved by providing stakeholder-led services, including processes and tools for the collaborative development of publications such as International Standards and CA schemes, issuing publications, including International Standards, and by offering CA services.

* This Resolution reads as follows:

"That steps should be taken to secure the co-operation of the technical Societies of the world by the appointment of a representative Commission to consider the question of the standardization of the Nomenclature and Ratings of Electrical Apparatus and Machinery."
STATUTES

The Commission will take appropriate measures to advance respect for transparency, diversity, inclusivity, and for equal opportunities – principles to which the Commission is committed.

SEAT OF THE COMMISSION (Article 3)

The seat of the Commission shall be determined by the General Assembly. At the time of issue of these Statutes and Rules of Procedure, the seat of the Commission is Geneva, Switzerland.

MEMBERSHIP (Article 4)

Any country desiring to participate in the work of the Commission shall form or appoint an Electrotechnical National Committee for its own country; upon admission, this Committee is called the National Committee.

A National Committee shall be a national organization entrusted with electrotechnical standardization work and oversight of related conformity assessment (CA) schemes.

The National Committee shall be fully representative of national stakeholder interests in the fields of activity of the Commission. The National Committee shall not be subject to undue influence from any single stakeholder. There shall be only one National Committee for each country.

Members of the Commission shall be those National Committees which have agreed to abide by the Statutes and the Rules of Procedure.

Only the National Committees of those countries officially recognized by the United Nations (UN) may become Members of the Commission.

A Member of the Commission shall fulfil the following conditions:

a) agree to comply with the decision(s) of the bodies of the Commission during the application process and afterwards, if admitted as a Member;

b) demonstrate its financial and organizational capacity to assume all financial and other obligations that it may incur as a Member of the Commission; and

MEMBERSHIP (Clause 4)

Any National Committee constituted in accordance with Article 4 of the Statutes, desiring to become a Member of the Commission, shall send a written application, in paper or electronic form, to the Secretariat for submission to the Full Member National Committees for voting in accordance with Clause 7.2, Procedure 1.

This application shall state the intention of the new Member to abide by the Statutes and Rules of Procedure, including all undertakings of membership, and demonstrate that the National Committee is constituted in accordance with the provisions of Article 4 of the Statutes.

Any National Committee may apply for Full Membership, irrespective of its economic situation, provided it undertakes to pay the corresponding dues.

A National Committee may apply for Associate Membership in order to pay reduced dues if its percentage of the total dues as calculated in accordance with the method approved by the General Assembly is less than the dues required for Full Membership, as decided by the General Assembly.

If, after any period of time, an Associate Member National Committee’s calculated dues exceed the minimum required to be paid by a Full Member National Committee, this Associate Member National Committee shall automatically acquire the status of a Full Member National Committee, without the General Assembly having to vote again on its admission and after which, within one year, it shall pay its respective dues’ increase.
STATUTES

Each National Committee shall maintain an appropriate internal governance system at all times which enables it to fulfil its role as defined in the Statutes and Rules of Procedure.

Each National Committee shall, for its interactions with the Commission, designate:

b) a person who is responsible for coordinating the national interests in the Commission and for the interaction with the Secretariat, referred to as the Secretary or Manager.

Each Member undertakes:

g) to uphold the principles to which the Commission is committed, including through its policies on transparency, diversity, inclusivity, and equal opportunities.

Depending on the level of its economic activity, evaluated on the basis of criteria defined in the Rules of Procedure, a National Committee may be admitted either as a Full Member or as an Associate Member.

A National Committee with or having had Full Membership status, even if suspended or withdrawn, is not allowed to apply for Associate Membership.

Notwithstanding Article 4 of the Statutes, each National Committee shall undertake to pay its annual dues during a maximum period of two years from its admission.

A suspended National Committee shall be automatically reinstated to its previous membership status following the completion of the full payment of its outstanding dues including interest according to Clause 24 before the end of the five-year maximum suspension period and the full payment of the dues for the year of readmission.

While suspended, a Full or Associate Member National Committee shall lose all its rights in and privileges from any activity of the Commission such as having access to the Commission’s document servers, not receiving publications free of charge or any other rights flowing from membership as granted through Commission policies and agreements.

An Associate Member National Committee shall have the right to take part in the Commission's activities in accordance with the provisions set out in Article 7, 17 and in Clauses 7.1, 12c, 14.2 and 15.4 of the Rules of Procedure. The members of the BAC must do all in their power to attend the meetings. An absence at two consecutive meetings shall be considered as an intention to resign. It may lead to an IEC Board recommendation to terminate the BAC member’s term and to a new election or appointment for the position in accordance with normal procedures.

10.4 Reporting

At a meeting or by correspondence, decisions shall be made by consensus.

All actions of the BAC shall be reported to the IEC Board.

The attendance of observers at GRAC meetings is not authorized and a member may not be represented by an alternate.

The draft agenda for each meeting shall be prepared by the Secretariat after consultation with the Chair and the financial auditor and shall be circulated at least two weeks before the date of the meeting. GRAC members shall have the option of proposing other items for the agenda, provided that they inform the Chair in advance of the meeting.

Working documents of the GRAC marked as “Confidential” or “Restricted Circulation” are restricted to GRAC and IEC Board members. In situations where a GRAC member feels it would be appropriate to share restricted GRAC

STANDARDIZATION MANAGEMENT BOARD

Article 14

The IEC Board delegates to the Standardization Management Board (SMB) the management of the standards work of the Commission.

The SMB shall take any action it considers necessary to ensure the proper and expeditious operation of the standards work (see Appendix 2 to the Rules of Procedure).

The SMB shall consist of:

- a Chair (without vote);
- fifteen members, elected by the General Assembly and their alternates appointed by the relevant National Committees in accordance with the provisions of Clause 14 of the Rules of Procedure;
- the Treasurer (ex officio, without vote);
- the Secretary-General (ex officio, without vote).

The SMB shall report its actions to the IEC Board.

Subject to the procedures decided by the IEC Board, the SMB shall collaborate with the Conformity Assessment Board (CAB) and the Market Strategy Board (MSB), and with other relevant bodies reporting to the IEC Board.

STANDARDIZATION MANAGEMENT BOARD

Clause 14

14.1 Membership

At least twenty-four weeks before the election of the Standardization Management Board (SMB) members, the Secretariat shall invite the Full Member National Committees to propose candidates for election and submit the name and qualifications of the person (and the alternate) it wishes to nominate. If an individual SMB member has served two full terms, the relevant National Committee may propose a new candidate for election by the General Assembly.

As a rule, each of the National Committees defined under 14.1 a) shall nominate a candidate.

The list of National Committees having accepted to propose candidates, together with the names and qualifications of their nominees, shall be circulated by the Secretariat to all Full Member National Committees.

Voting shall take place by secret ballot at the next meeting of the General Assembly.

The rules applicable to the membership of the SMB shall be as follows:

a) Seven members shall be elected by the General Assembly upon nomination by those seven National Committees paying the highest percentages of dues, combined with the highest percentages of technical committee and subcommittee (TC/SC) Secretariats held (see Appendix 1 for precise formula). These members are referred to as "automatically appointed members".

The individual members as per a) above shall have their terms of office automatically re-confirmed after three years, upon verification that the National Committees to which they belong still meet the criteria mentioned under a) above.
Members shall not serve more than two full terms in that capacity. Should the National Committees to which they belong still meet the relevant criteria at the expiry of their second term, these National Committees shall nominate new members for endorsement by the General Assembly.

b) Eight members shall be elected by the General Assembly upon nomination by the Full Member National Committees, account being taken of a representative geographical distribution and the number of TC/SC Secretariats held by their respective National Committees.

Members as per b) above shall be elected for a period of three years. A member shall not serve more than two full terms in that capacity.

All members shall be nominated on the basis of their personal qualifications. The essential criteria for persons elected as members of the SMB are listed in Appendix 3. The terms of the members shall take effect from 1st January of the year following their election.

A National Committee may only change its SMB member during the member’s term of office with the approval of the IEC Board. The new member serves until the end of the respective predecessor’s term of office. If this period is one year or less, it is considered a preliminary term; if it is more than one year, it is considered a full term.

A National Committee that has an SMB member shall appoint an alternate. There is no limit to the number of terms an alternate may serve provided the National Committee concerned continues to have an SMB member. The National Committee may request to change the alternate during the respective term by notifying the Secretariat. The alternate may accompany the member to SMB meetings, but may not replace the member at any meeting unless specifically authorized in accordance with the provisions of Clause 14.3.

The Chair shall be elected by the General Assembly for a term of office of three years, in accordance with the provisions of Clause 19 and shall be eligible for immediate re-election for one further full term of office.

For the duration of the term of office, the Chair shall be a Vice-President of the Commission.
14.2 Meetings

The presence of eight out of fifteen SMB voting members or their alternates or designated replacements shall constitute a quorum.

The SMB shall normally meet at least three times a year, once in conjunction with the General Assembly meeting through physical or virtual means, but a meeting may also be called at the request of the Chair or one-third of its elected members.

The draft agenda shall be circulated by the Secretariat to SMB members and their alternates and to all National Committees at least four weeks prior to the meeting.

Documents requiring a decision at the meeting shall be circulated to SMB members and their alternates at least six weeks prior to the meeting.

Documents which have not been circulated in accordance with the above, or any additional matter not on the agenda may only be considered by the SMB provided no member present raises objection.

Only the SMB members and their alternates are authorized to attend the meetings. If, for a justifiable reason, a member is unable to attend a particular meeting, a replacement for that meeting, either the alternate or another person, may be proposed by the National Committee concerned, subject to approval by the other members of the SMB. A National Committee may request approval from the Chair for an expert to attend a specific meeting, provided there is a maximum of two persons present from each National Committee.

In addition, the Chair, in consultation with the Secretary-General, may invite individuals for specific items where their technical expertise is deemed relevant.

For SMB meetings held in conjunction with General Assembly meetings, two pre-notified persons from each National Committee shall be allowed to attend, as observers. National Committees may submit requests for additional observers, and this shall be allowed, provided the National Committee hosting the SMB meeting can provide adequate meeting facilities, if the meeting is held through physical means.

Associate Member National Committees who wish to submit proposals to the SMB or its advisory committees shall send them to the Secretary-General at least, before the meeting. During the meeting, after consultation with the Chair, the Secretary-General may introduce such proposals for consideration.

The Chair may invite the representatives of Associate Member National Committees to take part in the discussion of their proposals.

A recording of the meetings of the SMB shall be kept by the Secretariat and the unconfirmed report of the meeting shall be submitted to SMB members for comment within four weeks of circulation.

Any comments received shall be dealt with by the Chair and the Secretariat. In the absence of comments or after dealing with the comments received, the report shall be considered as confirmed and shall be circulated to all National Committees for information.

14.3 Voting

For decisions taken outside meetings, only the fifteen elected members of the SMB have the right to vote. During meetings, if an SMB member is absent, the respective alternate or designated replacement may vote.

At a meeting or by correspondence, decisions shall be adopted by a two-thirds majority of those members voting, unless fewer than eight of them vote, in which case the decision shall be deferred to the next meeting.

Abstention is not considered as voting.

SMB members are required, and alternates are expected, to participate in SMB meetings. Failure, by the SMB member, to participate in two consecutive SMB meetings may lead to an SMB recommendation to the IEC Board to terminate the National Committee’s SMB membership and a new election for the position shall take place in accordance with normal procedures.
Technical committees and systems committees are created, modified or disbanded by the SMB and shall act in accordance with the Code of Conduct for technical work. Technical committees may delegate part of their scopes to subcommittees, in accordance with the Directives as set and maintained by the SMB. The technical committees’ and systems committees’ Chairs report directly to the Chair of the SMB and subcommittees’ Chairs report directly to the Chair of the technical committee they are assigned to.

Each technical committee and systems committee shall have a Chair and a Secretary, both appointed by the SMB amongst representatives of Full Member National Committees (or from the secretariat for the Secretaries of systems committees).

15.1 Tasks and Responsibilities

The primary duty of a technical committee, subcommittee or systems committee is the development and systematic maintenance of the International Standards or other deliverables.

Technical committees, subcommittees and systems committees shall carry out their work in accordance with the Directives.

A National Committee accepting the secretariat of a technical committee or subcommittee shall be responsible for ensuring that the work is proceeded with actively and shall do its utmost to bring the work to an early satisfactory conclusion.

15.2 Setting up of a Technical Committee or System Committee

The Standardization Management Board (SMB) shall create a technical committee or systems committee if the following conditions are fulfilled:

a) It is proposed in accordance with the Directives, as set and maintained by the SMB;

b) All Full Member National Committees have been consulted by the Secretariat;

c) A two-third majority of Full Member National Committees having voted, approved the proposal;

d) At least five Full Member National Committees have expressed their intention to participate actively;

e) The scope has been clearly defined.

15.3 Scope

The scope of a technical committee or systems committee may be altered or expanded only upon approval of the SMB.

15.4 Participation

Full Member National Committees have the right to take part in the activities of all technical committees, subcommittees and systems committees as P-members or O-members. P-members (participating) participate actively in the work, with an obligation to vote on all questions formally submitted for voting within the technical committee, subcommittee or systems committee, on new work item proposals, enquiry drafts and final draft International Standards, and to contribute to meetings. O-members (observing) follow the work as observers, and therefore can receive committee documents and have the right to submit comments and to attend meetings.

All Associate Member National Committees have the right to access the documents of all technical committees, subcommittees and systems committees and to submit their respective comments.

On request to the Secretary-General, Associate Member National Committees may participate as P-members, as defined in the Directives, in the work of a maximum of four pre-notified, already established technical committees, subcommittees and/or systems committees. Any request for a change in the choice of technical committee(s), subcommittee(s) and/or systems committee(s) must be submitted to the Secretary-General.

CONFORMITY ASSESSMENT BOARD (Article 16)

The IEC Board delegates to the Conformity Assessment Board (CAB) the management, including operational and financial management, of the conformity assessment (CA) activities of the Commission.

The CAB shall take any action it considers necessary to promote and facilitate the operation of the Commission’s CA activities (see Appendix 2 to the Rules of Procedure).

The CAB shall consist of:

- a Chair (without vote);
- fifteen members, elected by the General Assembly and their alternates appointed by the relevant National Committees in accordance with Clause 16 of the Rules of Procedure;
- the Chair and Executive Secretary (ex officio, without vote) of each CA System of the Commission;
- the Treasurer (ex officio, without vote);
- the Secretary-General (ex officio, without vote).

The CAB shall report its actions to the IEC Board.

CONFORMITY ASSESSMENT BOARD (Clause 16)

16.1 Membership

The rules applicable to the membership of the Conformity Assessment Board (CAB) shall be as follows:

a) Six members shall be elected by the General Assembly upon nomination by Group A Members, as determined by Appendix 5.

b) Nine members shall be elected by the General Assembly upon nomination by non-Group A Members account being taken of a representative geographical distribution and participation of their National Committees in conformity assessment (CA) activities.

All members shall be nominated on the basis of their personal qualifications including their broad experience in CA and their ability to represent the views of the CA community, including users of CA services. The essential criteria for persons elected as members are listed in Appendix 3.

The fifteen members shall be elected for a term of office of three years. A member shall not serve more than two full terms in that capacity.

The terms of the members shall take effect from 1st January of the year following their election.
Subject to the procedures decided by the IEC Board, the CAB shall collaborate with the Standardization Management Board (SMB) and the Market Strategy Board (MSB), and with other relevant bodies reporting to the IEC Board.

An elected member may only be changed during the respective term of office with the approval of the IEC Board. The new member serves until the end of the respective predecessor’s term of office. If this period is one year or less, it is considered a preliminary term; if it is more than one year, it is considered a full term.

A National Committee that has a CAB member shall appoint an alternate. Only one of the two positions (member or alternate) may be professional staff from a National Committee.

The member and alternate shall be from different stakeholder interests.

There is no limit to the length of time an alternate may serve provided the alternate continues to have a CAB member to support. The National Committee may request to change the alternate by notifying the Secretariat. The alternate may not replace the member at any meeting unless specifically authorized in accordance with the provisions of Clause 16.3.

CAB members are required, and alternates are expected, to participate in CAB meetings. Failure, by the CAB member, to participate in two consecutive CAB meetings may lead to a CAB recommendation to the IEC Board to terminate the National Committee’s CAB membership and a new election for the position shall take place in accordance with normal procedures.

The Chair shall be elected by the General Assembly for a term of office of three years, in accordance with the provisions of Clause 19 and shall be eligible for immediate re-election for one further full term of office.

For the duration of the term of office, the Chair shall be a Vice-President of the Commission.

16.2 Election procedure

At least twenty-four weeks before the election of the CAB members, the Secretariat shall invite the Full Member National Committees to propose candidates for election and submit the name and qualifications of the person (and the alternate) it wishes to nominate. If an individual CAB member has served two full terms, the relevant National Committee may nominate a new candidate for election by the General Assembly.
All National Committees, and particularly those nominating candidates for CAB membership, should have a dedicated body or structure for CA that is fully representative of national interests in the fields of the Commission’s CA activities.

The list of National Committees having accepted to propose candidates, together with the names and qualifications of their nominees, shall be circulated by the Secretariat to all Full Member National Committees.

The election shall take place by secret ballot at the next meeting of the General Assembly.

16.3 Meetings

The presence of eight CAB members (or if absent, their alternates) shall constitute a quorum.

The CAB shall normally meet twice a year, but a meeting may also be called at the request of the Chair or one-third of its members.

The draft agenda shall be circulated by the Secretariat to CAB members and their alternates and to all Full Member National Committees at least four weeks prior to the meeting.

Documents requiring a decision at the meeting shall be circulated to CAB members and alternates and the National Committees of the CAB members at least six weeks prior to the meeting.

Documents which have not been circulated in accordance with the above, or any additional matter not on the agenda, may only be considered by the CAB provided no CAB member present raises objection.

Only the CAB members and their alternates are authorized to attend the meetings. If, for a justifiable reason, a CAB member is unable to attend a particular meeting, the alternate may take the CAB Member’s seat and vote on their behalf, subject to pre-notification by the CAB member or National Committee to, and approval by, the Chair. A National Committee may request approval from the Chair for an expert to attend a specific meeting, provided there is a maximum of two persons present from each National Committee.
In addition, the Chair, in consultation with the Secretary-General, may invite individuals for specific items where their technical expertise is deemed relevant.

For CAB meetings held in conjunction with General Assembly meetings, two pre-notified persons from each National Committee shall be allowed to attend, as observers. National Committees may submit requests for additional observers, and this shall be allowed, provided the National Committee hosting the CAB meeting can provide adequate meeting facilities, if the meeting is held through physical means.

A recording of CAB meetings shall be kept by the Secretariat. The unconfirmed report of the meeting shall be submitted to the CAB members for comment within four weeks of circulation.

Any comments received shall be dealt with by the Chair and the Secretariat. In the absence of comments or after dealing with the comments received, the report shall be considered as confirmed and shall be circulated to all National Committees for information.

The Chair, ex officio, may attend all meetings of the committees of the CA Systems, without vote.

The Chair shall not act on behalf of any other categories of membership of the CAB.

16.4 Voting

During meetings, if a CAB member is absent, the respective alternate may vote in accordance with Clause 16.3.

For decisions taken outside meetings, only the fifteen elected CAB members have the right to vote. Such decisions are taken in a vote by correspondence.

CAB decisions shall be adopted by a two-thirds majority of those CAB members (or alternates) voting, unless fewer than eight votes are received, in which case the decision shall be deferred to the next meeting.

Abstention is not considered as voting.
STATUTES

CONFORMITY ASSESSMENT SYSTEMS (Article 17)

The conformity assessment (CA) work of the Commission is carried out by CA systems (IEC CA Systems), each having a different scope of activity as decided by the Conformity Assessment Board (CAB) to which the IEC CA Systems report. The CAB delegates the management and operational responsibility related to the IEC CA System’s activities to each IEC CA System’s management committee. The CAB supervises the IEC CA Systems’ management committees, has the authority to disband them (and/or the IEC CA Systems themselves), and is empowered with any measure described in these Statutes and the Rules of Procedure. In consultation with the relevant CA System’s management committee, the CAB may modify the Basic Rules of any of the IEC CA Systems on its own initiative.

Full and Associate Member National Committees, or fully representative governing bodies reporting to them, remaining under their instruction and notified by them, are eligible to seek membership of the IEC CA Systems. A body from a non-IEC member country may, with the concurrence of the IEC Board regarding general Commission policy and satisfying the specific requirements for membership of an IEC CA System, be admitted to that CA activity. Suspended National Committees, or bodies notified by them for IEC CA System membership, shall not be permitted to retain or be admitted to membership of any CA activity during the period of suspension.

IEC CA Systems are set up, modified, or disbanded by the CAB. They may create and delegate responsibilities to bodies in accordance with the Basic Rules, which are approved or modified by the CAB. Each IEC CA System is governed by a management committee composed of member bodies (representatives of National Committees, or bodies notified by National Committees), of participating countries. Bodies from non-IEC member countries participating in an IEC CA System may also be represented on the management committee. Officers as defined in the IEC CA Systems’ Basic Rules are appointed by the CAB based upon nomination by the CA Systems management committee.

Each CA System shall be responsible for planning its own budget. The CAB shall be responsible for validating and proposing the CA Systems’ budgets, in accordance with Articles 7, paragraph five, item e), and 8 b), for integration into the IEC budget process. Once the IEC budget has been approved by the

RULES OF PROCEDURE

CONFORMITY ASSESSMENT SYSTEMS (Clause 17)

A Conformity Assessment (CA) System is formally established once its Basic Rules have been approved by the Conformity Assessment Board (CAB). A CA System wishing to modify its Basic Rules shall submit the text of the proposed modification to the CAB and the modification is only implemented once approved by the CAB.

METHOD FOR THE DETERMINATION OF THOSE SEVEN STANDARDIZATION MANAGEMENT BOARD (SMB) MEMBERS
REFERRED TO AS "AUTOMATICALLY APPOINTED MEMBERS"

The criteria used to determine the seven National Committees entitled to nominate those members of the Standardization Management Board (SMB) referred to as "automatically appointed members" are the following:

a) the percentage of dues paid by the National Committee in relation to the total amount of IEC dues (percentage D), b) the percentage of TC/SC secretariats held by the National Committee in relation to the total number of technical committee and subcommittee secretariats existing in the IEC (percentage S).

Those seven National Committees with the highest combined percentages (D+S) weighted equally, are each entitled to nominate an "automatically appointed" individual member of the Standardization Management Board (SMB).

In case of equal combined percentages between two National Committees, preference shall be given to the one holding the highest percentage of secretariats.

The fulfilment of these criteria is checked by the Secretariat each time a nominee is presented for automatic election or re-election.

In the occurrence of the replacement of a National Committee entitled to nominate an "automatically appointed member" by another one, resulting from a change in the respective combined percentages held, the election of the new individual member will require endorsement by the General Assembly.

Criteria
Group A Members make a formal long-term commitment to the IEC that sets an example for all other National Committees. It is important that the parameters for a Group A Member take into account more than financial contributions and extend to involvement in IEC activities and overall support to the IEC community.

The following criteria shall be used as guidelines when considering an application for Group A Membership:

1. The importance of the country for world electrotechnical trade;
2. The National Committee’s calculated dues should amount to more than 3% of total dues at the time of application;
3. The National Committee management and technical decision-making processes should demonstrate balanced private and public sector involvement;
4. The National Committee should have proposed candidates for at least five positions in elected management bodies (IEC Board, SMB, CAB) in the six years preceding their application. At least one candidate they proposed should be serving on an elected management board at the time of application;
5. The National Committee should be an active P-member in at least 60% of IEC technical committees, subcommittees or systems committees;
6. The National Committee should have at least 200 experts involved in IEC activities;
7. The National Committee should hold at least two TC/SC Secretariats;
8. The National Committee, or the member body appointed by the National Committee, should participate in all the IEC CA Systems;
9. The Certification Bodies operating within the National Committee country should participate in total in at least 40% of the four CA Systems’ operations (product categories for IECEE, schemes for IECEx and IECQ, and sectors for IECRE);
10. The Certification Bodies and/or Testing Laboratories operating within the National Committee country should have at least 15 assessors involved in the CA Systems’ peer assessment activities;
11. The National Committee should be able to demonstrate the adoption and wide use of IEC Standards in its country;
12. The National Committee should have hosted at least twenty IEC meetings of technical committees, subcommittees or systems committees over the past five year period and at least one IEC General Meeting in the 15 years preceding its application and/or are planning to host one in the next three years.

Procedures
1. Upon receipt of an application for Group A Membership, compliance with the recommended criteria would be considered by the President’s Committee;
2. The National Committee application for Group A Membership would then be put to the General Assembly for approval. The President’s Committee is responsible for regularly evaluating current Group A Members’ involvement in IEC activities to monitor whether the commitments are maintained.
